

Motivation

Why people work well

YOUR AIM TODAY

Apply financial and non-financial motivation methods.

YOUR RULE

Read the notes twice. Use exact case facts. Every explanation must contain a because link and a therefore business impact. Keep page 4 closed.

Student: Rohan

Start time: _____ Finish time: _____

Date: _____

Knowledge and method

Motivation is the willingness of employees to work effectively toward objectives.

- Pay matters, but motivation also depends on recognition, responsibility and development.
- Piece rate links pay to output but may damage quality.
- Job rotation changes tasks; job enrichment adds responsibility and challenge.
- Training can improve skill, confidence and retention.
- The best method depends on worker needs and the nature of the job.

MINI CASE

CallPro has 40 agents. Labour turnover is 30% and complaints are rising. Managers propose a bonus based only on number of calls, while agents ask for coaching and more authority to solve customer problems.

WORKED CHAIN

A volume-only bonus may increase calls, but agents could rush customers. Complaints may rise further, damaging retention and reputation.

Knowledge, application and analysis

Use the mini case in Questions 3-6.

Question	Your answer
1. Define labour turnover.
2. Identify one financial motivator.
3. Identify two non-financial motivators in the case.
4. Explain one risk of the proposed bonus.
5. Explain one benefit of job enrichment.
6. Recommend a motivation package.

QUALITY CHECK

Circle every case fact. Underline every because link. Box every business impact.

Models and correction log

Wording may differ, but the knowledge and chains must be accurate.

Q	Answer / model points
1	The proportion of employees leaving an organisation over a period.
2	Bonus based on number of calls.
3	Coaching/training and greater authority/responsibility.
4	Agents may shorten calls to earn bonuses, reducing service quality and increasing complaints.
5	More authority can create achievement and faster problem resolution, improving satisfaction for staff and customers.
6	Combine coaching and controlled decision authority with a balanced bonus using quality and customer satisfaction, not call volume alone.

Q	Missing layer	My improved sentence

SEND FOR MARKING

Send pages 3 and 4. Ask for a level, missing chains, and a rewritten model for the weakest response.